Our packages are crafted to offer not only high-quality, custom design solutions but also dedicated support throughout every stage of the process.

THE PROCESS

To start, simply submit your project brief via the form on our website. We'll confirm receipt and review the details, then proceed with a discovery call (if necessary) to align on your objectives. Depending on the project's size and scope, we may send a proposal for approval before moving forward.

Once the quote and invoice are approved, we begin the creative process. You'll receive regular updates, and we'll engage with you at key touchpoints for feedback and revisions, ensuring the design evolves to meet your vision.

After final approval, we'll deliver all assets in the required formats, ready for use across your campaign or brand.

LIMITATIONS

Please note that our design packages focus on creative services only.

Third-party costs, such as printing, photography, licensing for typography, billboard production, or ad placement fees, are not included and will need to be covered by the client if required.

Web design and development services are also outside the scope of our design packages.

Any external services or additional costs will be discussed and agreed upon separately.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY (IP)

SECURE FULL OWNERSHIP OF YOUR BRAND

As the creators of your designs, we automatically retain copyright and intellectual property (IP) under Australian law until ownership is transferred or purchased. This page outlines the option for securing full control over your designs and ensuring your brand's future is protected.

At Foundry, we understand that intellectual property (IP) rights are a crucial consideration when developing a brand or logo. The cost of transferring ownership of creative assets, such as logos, branding, and other design elements, varies depending on several factors, including the scope of the project, the intended usage, and the size of the client. For larger companies or global brands, the fee to purchase full ownership of creative work is typically higher, reflecting the broader scope and exclusive use the client will have over the design.

When you opt to purchase full intellectual property rights, you gain complete control over the design and can use it freely across any medium, platform, or market. This means there are no restrictions on how you can adapt, modify, or apply the design for your business in the future. With this transfer, our agency relinquishes any future claims to the work, ensuring you have full ownership. The cost of transferring IP rights is usually calculated as a multiple of the original design fee and reflects the long-term value and potential of the creative assets.

For smaller businesses or local brands, the transfer fee is typically more affordable, but it is still tailored to meet the specific needs and usage of the project. This means that the fee can vary based on factors such as whether the design will be used regionally or across a global market, and how extensively the brand will be utilized in marketing, advertising, and other applications.

We believe in transparency, so we ensure that each intellectual property transfer agreement is customised to suit your specific business needs. As there is no fixed rate for purchasing IP rights, the fee is determined based on the scope, scale, and intended use of the design. While a smaller business may pay a lower fee, a larger company with more extensive use of the brand will incur a higher fee to reflect the full exclusivity of the work.

Foundry works closely with each client to understand their goals, the scale of their business, and how they plan to use the design in the long term. From there, we provide a tailored quote for transferring the IP rights that aligns with the value of the creative work and the level of exclusivity required. We also ensure that all terms are clearly outlined in a formal agreement, protecting both your investment and your rights to the work.

If you are interested in securing full ownership of your branding or creative assets, please don't hesitate to reach out. We'll be happy to discuss the specifics of your project and provide a personalised proposal for transferring the IP rights. With this agreement in place, you will have the confidence of knowing that your brand is fully owned and protected for the future.

A Heartfelt Thanks

Thank you for exploring our services.

We're passionate about bringing your creative vision to life and helping your brand grow.

If you're ready to get started or would like to discuss how we can collaborate, we'd love to hear from you.

We look forward to the opportunity to work together.

- The Foundry Team.
